JAMES E. SHEPARD

FOUNDER OF

NORTH CAROLINA CENTRAL UNIVERSITY

An Educator Is Born

The history of North Carolina Central University is intimately linked with the life of James E. Shepard. When he was 35 years of age, he founded the institution; for the remaining 37 years of his life he carried its responsibility, directed its course, secured the funds for its operation and extension, and molded its course.

Dr. James E. Shepard was born in Raleigh, North Carolina, November 3, 1875 to Reverend Augustus Shepard and the former Hattie Whitted. His father, a Baptist minister served as pastor of the White Rock Baptist Church of Durham.

Being of a religious family background, James Shepard was raised to love Jesus. He was baptized at an early age. He was educated at Shaw University, one of the oldest Black Institutions in the country, which had been founded in the early wave of interest in Black education by Major Tupper.

James E. Shepard was trained as a pharmacist and opened the first Black drug store in Durham. Later, he became a licensed preacher, in order to present the needs of his school from the pulpits of his brethren.

In his druggist days, he became interested in politics and was appointed deputy collector of internal revenue, with offices in Raleigh. He was considering the campaign of Congress as successor to Representative Cheatham, last black to represent North Carolina in the national legislature (at that time), when he accepted appointment to a post in the office of the Register of Deeds of Washington, D. C.

ANNIE D. SHEPARD

WIFE OF FOUNDER AND

AUTHOR OF NCCU's ALMA MATER

Mrs. Annie Day Shepard apparently held only one title at this university her husband founded in 1910. For three years she was identified as Matron of the Dining Hall. For thirty-six years Mrs. Shepard was devoted to counseling students. If not for her efforts in helping students, many of them would not have achieved their wants and wishes.

Mrs. Shepard was the author to the words to the university's Alma Mater, whose three verses are still sung today. Mrs. Shepard died February 8, 1947. Her funeral was conducted on the following Monday. That morning an address by Langston Hughes was scheduled on the N.C.C.U. campus. The celebrated poet dedicated a poem, "Dear Lovely Death" to Mrs. Shepard.

Mrs. Shepard was married to James E. Shepard November 7, 1895. To their union, two daughter's were born — Majorie and Annie Day.

ALMA MATER

"Dear Old N.C.C."

The sloping hills, the verdant green
The lovely blossoms' beauteous sheen
Surround our college proud and gay,
Where wave our colors Maroon and Gray
What matters it how far we roam,
Our thots will oft return to home
And hearts will e'er be true to thee,
Our Alma Mater N.C.C.

Chorus
Then Rah! Rah! Rah! For our colors so gay!
Dear Old N.C.C.'s Maroon and Gray
Thy Sons and Daughters will honor thee,
Dear Old N.C.C.

You send us forth with hearts of love
So like a blessing from above,
And from the path we'll never stray
Our dear Alma Mater Maroon and Gray
We'll work and fight, we'll win our way,
When duty calls we shall obey
And may we e'er return to thee
Our Alma Mater, N.C.C.

ALFONSO ELDER — 2nd PRESIDENT OF NCC, 1948-1963

DR. & MRS. ALFONSO ELDER

In September, 1968, the Alfonso Elder Student opened its doors. Because of Dr. Elder's efforts in increasing facilities at North Carolina College and because he worked diligently for a recreational facility for students, it is only appropriate that the Student Union bear his name.

SAMUEL P. MASSIE — 3rd PRESIDENT OF NCC, 1963-1966

DR. & MRS. SAMUEL MASSIE

Dr. Massie came to North Carolina Central College from a non-administrative post at Howard University. He stayed at NCC only three years.

JAMES E. SHEPARD INVISIONS A SCHOOL

James E. Shepard, his dream our hope
James E. Shepard, his vision our heritage

From the Washington office he went to the staff of the International Sunday School Convention, where he caught the vision of his life work and formed the association which enabled him to start the venture. He became convinced of the need for trained black ministers to act as leaders for the race, and soon afterwards set about raising money to establish a training school. In the consciousness of this need was born and sustained a faith that carried him through vast difficulties to final achievement.

For in 1910 those dreams gave way to reality and at last, out of pain and suffering, hardship and prayer, a school was opened for his people. His dream became a reality.

FIRST BUSINESS EDUCATION CLASS OF NORTH CAROLINA COLLEGE MAY 23, 1912

HIS DREAM BECOMES A REALITY

The school, known as the National Religious Training School and Chautauqua, was established in 1910 on a 25 acre tract, forming part of the present site. The land was a gift largely of white people of Durham. By 1912, 10 buildings had been erected.

Private donations and student fees were the institution's only support, and the latter had to be kept at a minimum. Board and room cost $7.00 per month; tuition $1.00 for the same period. A teacher or professor earned $500 to $1,000.00 a year.

Designed as a college, it was found necessary to include a high school course, so the institution, at first combined a high school, 4 year college, training school for country ministers, commercial school, and home economics school.

The history of the early days of Dr. Shepard's enterprise is a story of adventure and faith. There were years when he had to borrow money to keep the school open to pay the teachers. His wife, Mrs. Annie Day Shepard, went to the kitchen and cooked for teachers and students in the early hard days. So far behind in payments of one school's obligation had he gotten, Dr. Shepard did not come into Durham. In 1915 the financial difficulties became so great that the school had to be sold and reorganized. In this second stage of its development, the institution was known as the National Training School.

During the crisis, Dr. Shepard met one of his associates, C. C. Amey, later business manager of the school in a drug store on Mangum Street. They were opening mail, and out of one envelope fell a check, from a plain folding book. They noticed $25 on it and some zeros following it, but they couldn't imagine anyone sending $250. Close examination showed that it was for $25,000 from Mrs. Russell Sage of New York. This money made it possible for the property to be bought back. The gift saved the day.

The school had begun to attract the attention of observers throughout the South, when the First World War dumped it into another financial depression. To insure the survival of the school two plans were considered. One was to turn over the control of the school to one of the several interested denominational boards. The other plan, which was adopted, was to give the property to the State as a public institution. Accordingly, in 1923, the National Training School became the Durham State Normal School.

In 1925 the school experienced two notable events. A fire destroyed three important buildings—the administration building, the classroom building and men's dormitory. These were immediately replaced; but of more importance that same year, Dr. Shepard, with a brand new Doctorate of Literature from Howard University, was successful in a legislative campaign to make the school the Nation's first state-supported black liberal arts college. In 1925, the school became North Carolina College for Negroes.

A new crisis arose in 1929, when the legislature considered the consolidation of the North Carolina College for Negroes and A & T College at Greensboro. Protests from citizens of Durham resulted in the appointment by the Governor (at that time) Max Gardner of a fact finding commission, whose unanimous recommendation that the college be continued at Durham was adopted.

During the remaining years of Dr. Shepard's life, he was markedly successful in securing appropriations from the North Carolina General Assembly ruled that the name of the school should be North Carolina College at Durham.

Dr. Alfonso Elder assumed the presidency in 1948. His tasks included new approaches to the College's internal organization and expanding the faculty and curriculum to meet new changes demanded of education at the med-point of the twentieth century. By expanding the institution's research facilities, bringing into fruition the building program blueprint of his predecessor, purchasing additional land, renovating the physical plant and keeping open the avenues of good human relations between the campus and the community. Dr. Elder provided strong leadership during the late 40's and 50's and expanded the influence of the College both regionally and nationally.

In 1963, Dr. Samuel P. Massie assumed the presidency, coming from Washington, D. C. where he was Associate Program Director for Undergraduate Science Education of the National Science Foundation and Chairman of Pharmaceutical Chemistry at Howard University. On July 1, 1967, Dr. Albert N. Whiting, Dean of Faculty at Morgan State College, was inaugurated forth president of the institution. Under his vigorous leadership, the physical facilities expanded to over forty buildings, including expanded library facilities, a multi-million dollar communications building, a new science building, and expansion of the stadium facilities. Dr. Whiting has attracted some of the nation's finest faculty to the institution, nurtured the expanding cultural outreach of the campus and bolstered the economic foundation of the school through numerous corporation grants and endowments.

In 1969, the State Legislature again changed the name of the institution to North Carolina Central University. On July 1, 1972, NCCU became a constituent member of the University of North Carolina. Throughout the difficulty period of the late 60's and early 70's the Whiting Administration has never lost sight of Dr. Shepard's original dream — to build and maintain an institution of the first rank where man may honor his past and celebrate his future, where wisdom may be cherished and the truth may set man free.

The Essence of You

The Essence of You commemorates the 50th Anniversary of North Carolina Central University. It is displaying what mutual co-operation and understanding by the alumni, faculty, students and community have produced for the betterment of society and for the individual.

It depicts the struggle of people trying to attain freedom in themselves, self esteem and knowledge. It portrays the gaining of power economically, socially, physically and mentally by people to promote, maintain, influence, regulate and control a unity over their community and their lives. Without this struggle there would be no progress.

The Essence of You is saying that "You" as a part of North Carolina Central University have self respect, self awareness, self identity and through the progression of time has shown self esteem for what you love and hope for. It is saying that "You" have made North Carolina Central University a monument of intellectualism, truth, service and progress.

Freshmen

They came like the wind —
BRAND NEW
Into another world at NCCU
Confused,
Questionable
Lonely,
Carefree,
Insecure,
and Excited —
They came;
But only to discover
New faces
and
New Experiences
That college life brings.
Like the fresh morning rose
They came
BRAND NEW
So young and beautiful
And VIGOROUS

Hattie L. T

Yesterday
I thought
when I grow up
I'll be a man . . .

to be a man
I thought,
meant growing up
just getting big.

Today, I think,
perhaps tomorrow,
I'll know what it means to be a man

thinking . . .

loving . . .

respecting . . .

Treating other men with dignity,

working meeting obligations . . .

playing, resting, making the world a better place to live.

Tomorrow,
will it come?
Can man survive?

Perhaps yesterday hope was real, I could see men getting big, growing up. I did not have to understand decisions made effecting men, without their constant hate, bitterness, bigotry, mad grasp for power. I cannot grow up, I cannot become a man.

And Behold A Queen Is Crowned . . .

Miss NCCU,

She wears a crown and title unlike all others. She is truly "The Essence Of You". The smile she carries upon her face is the glow that makes NCCU shine.

The beginning — Mrs. Keck, Miss NCC of 1929 to now, Miss DeEdgra Fozard, Miss NCCU of 1975. Can you tell the difference? At NCCU, there is unlimited Beauty!!!!!

THE ESSENCE OF YOU

"The Essence of You" — the reflection of that which is you in relation to fashion. Fashion has gone through many different changes. Very short afros . . . , coats with fur . . . , slinky gowns . . . , mouton coats like grandma used to wear . . . , of course the long and short of it. Let's not forget the "LEATHERS". Men are in the swing of things too. There ain't nothing finer than a man in a suit being "CLEAN". Even at night we must be fashionable, you can't go to bed looking "SHAKEY"! And no fashion show is complete without entertainment which "CENTRAL" is full of.

October 30 must have marked one of the most electrifying musical experiences ever before witnessed in B. N. Duke. The Roy Ayers Ensemble shocked an inner feeling probably unaware of to most people. It smoked . . . smoked through intermission with cans, drums, and rhythm to a cooking second half so boiling hot, that even today, one of the most talked about experiences is that intoxicating Roy Ayers Performance . . .

. . . and on October 31, 1975, NCCU turned out to see The Jimmy Castor Bunch turn out the gym and see just how far Parliament-Funkadelic would actually freak out. Everybody was there — F---ed Up!! It was truly HOMECOMING at the Eagle's Nest. Sho' You're Right!!!!!!!!!!

Now ticket this!

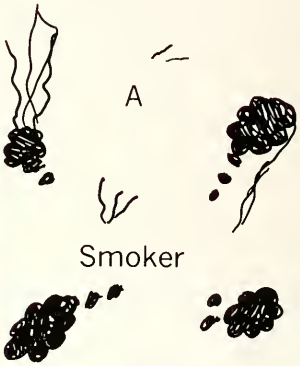
NCCU VS SCSC



The war between the Eagle and the stunted Bulldog, who stooped so low as to enter Eagleland, was fought on that well known field of O'Kelly. The famous battle took place on November 1, 1975 at 1:30 p.m. This famous battle attracted people from all over the world. (It was a sin to disturb this Eagle and all his family.) This mighty bird swooped down from atop his mountain onto the battle field and prepared to meet his opponent.

The whistle blew for the battle to begin. The strategy of the generals was the same. The battle began to see-saw back and forth across the field. The Eagle would deliver a mighty blow, the crowd would go up in an uproar, the Bulldog would come back with a counter attack that made the crowd go up in boo's. All of a sudden the Eagle was in a deadlock, nowhere to go, nothing to do. The crowd relaxed while the Eagle returned to the top of his mountain to make plans for the second half. After the half time discussion, the Eagle came from his mountain with a new look, which showed in the second half kick-off. Third quarter the Eagle clipped the Bulldog's tail shorter than it already was, then he plucked his left eye out with 2 minutes left in the third quarter. In the beginning of the fourth quarter, the Eagle was really fired up. He plucked the Bulldog's other eye out, by the end of the fourth quarter, the Bulldog had lost his life and the Eagle was victorious again. Able to fly faster than a speedy 747. Able to leap the highest mountain, and stronger than any other bird that flys.

RONNIE RAY

His 44.45 victory in the Pan-American 400 meters was a big one to Ron Ray. It not only gave him his first major international gold medal, but perhaps more importantly, it also marked Ron Ray's return to world-class quarter-miling.

It has been a long, uphill grind from a high school record 45.8 440 as a prep senior in 1972. His first two years at North Carolina Central University were marked by frustrating injuries and a disappointing stall in what he knows should have been a world class career.

The 1975 season was a little better, as he won the NAIA title in a near PR 46.04. But at the NCAA he ran last in his semi and didn't even try the AAU, he kept training through, and got a big break when a spot came open on the US mile relay team for the match against West Germany and Africa. Ray was called in and he responded with a 46.6 lead-off on the 3:02.4 world record.

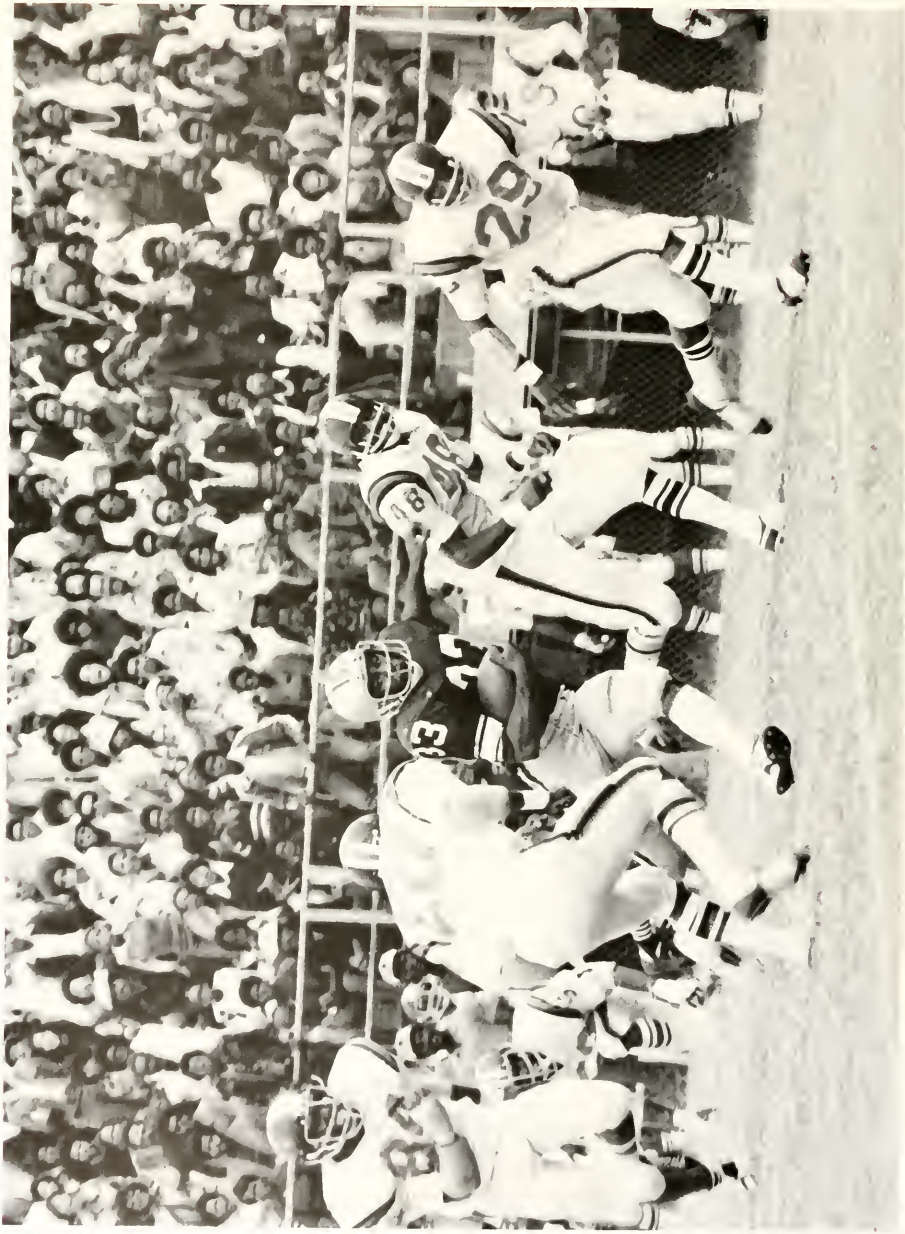
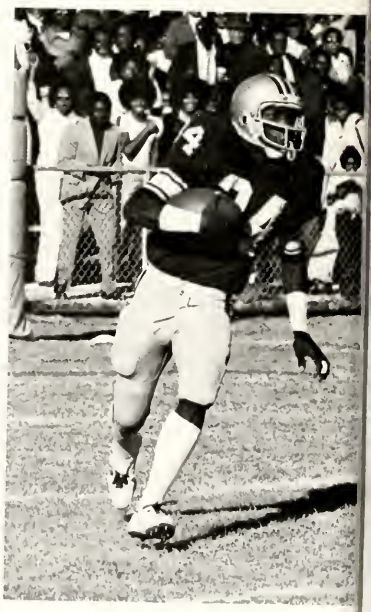
Then he cut his best to 45.42m in taking the Pan-Am Trials. He wanted to run 44.8 at the Games, he said. He did even better, zipping 44.45, fourth-quickest automatic time ever (only the first three in the '68 Olympic final are faster) to best last year's No. 1, Alberto Juantorena of Cuba. He finished off a stellar comeback anchoring the US 1600 relayists to victory.





The football team presents a portrait of a former player to his family during halftime of the Delaware State game, in which the Eagles were victorious 16-14

NCCU Track
The Best
Track Record
Of Any Black College
30 National Titles
8 Olympic Winners
77 All
Americans

In the beginning, from a very meager start in 1947 when two athletes had to exchange track shoes to compete in consecutive events, the North Carolina Central University thin clads have risen to a point of international prominence in track and field.

This rise to national and international prominence was marked by a number of high spot performances by NCCU athletes. Don Leek, started the process by winning the AAU junior indoor hurdler title in 1947. Lee Calhoun, continued the hurdling tradition by winning a series of outdoor and indoor titles with the crowning achievement of NCCU's first olympic gold medal in 1956 in Melvourne, Australia. Calhoun repeated his 110 meter hurdler victory in 1960 to become the only back-to-back winner of that event.

In addition to winning numerous conference and regional championships and thirty national championships, NCCU has had at least one representative in every Olympic Games since 1956. Charles Foster is presently the world's best hurdler and should continue NCCU's Olympic representation. In 1956 Lee Calhoun won the gold medal for the 110 meter event in Melbourne. He repeated in Rome in 1960. In 1964 Ed Roberts won the bronze medal in the 200 meters in Tokyo, Japan. Ed Roberts and Norman Tate represented the USA and NCCU in Mexico in 1968. In 1972 in Munich, Germany, Larry Black won the silver medal for the 200 meters and the gold for the 4X100 Relay. Julius Sang won bronze medal for the 4X400 Relay and Robert Ouko was a finalist in the 800 meters and a gold medal winner in the 4X400 Relay.

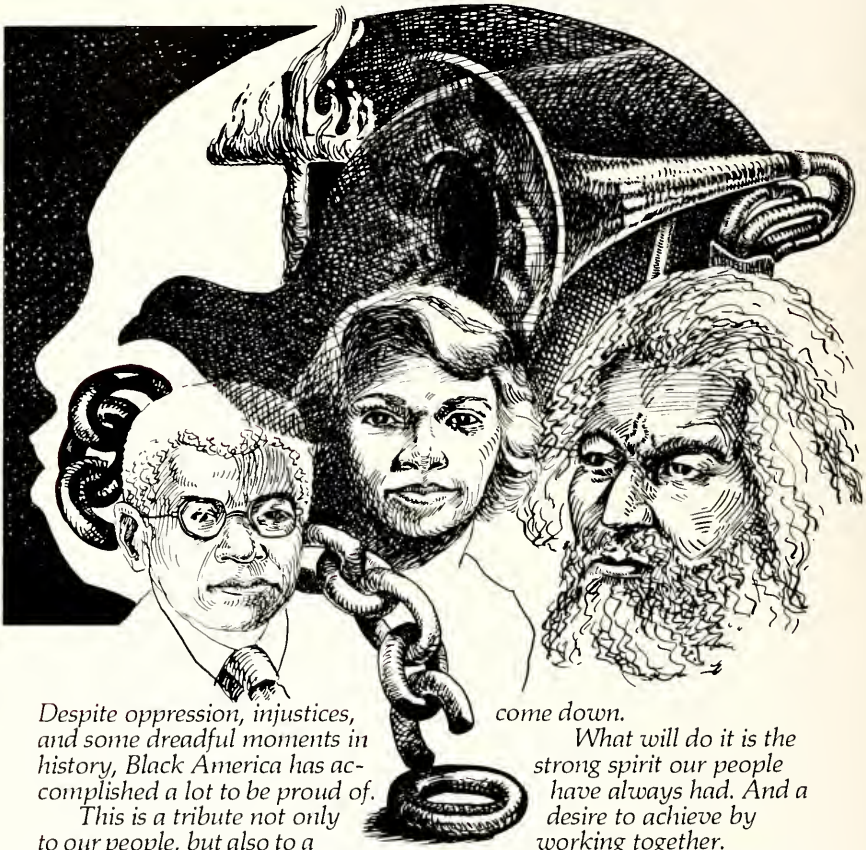
Black history in America. A lesson in achievement.



Despite oppression, injustices, and some dreadful moments in history, Black America has accomplished a lot to be proud of.

This is a tribute not only to our people, but also to a country where it became possible.

We all know that our problems aren't over. They're still faced everyday. In ghettos, in business, in schools, and in the minds of men and women.

But at North Carolina Mutual, we're confident even these barriers will soon come down.

What will do it is the strong spirit our people have always had. And a desire to achieve by working together.

Let's remember our heritage. Remember the achievements as well as the hardships. Then use this as a lesson in how to build a stronger, more unified America.

Honorable mention

Persons of Honorable Mention are those students who have been selected and recognized as being among North Carolina Central University's most promising campus leaders. The criteria is based on standards in conjunction with those applicable to Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities (i.e, the students academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extra curricular activities, and future potential).

Dear Friends,

My job has ended, but the memories will always be in my mind. I will remember the good times along with the bad.

Being Editor-in-Chief of the Eagle Yearbook is an honor. I thank you for placing your trust in me. Being Editor is also a very hard job I believe this was probably the hardest job I'll ever undertake.

I don't think anyone realizes just how much time and effort goes into a publication of this size I only wish I could begin to tell you, because you wouldn't believe it.

The staff and I tried this year harder than ever to capture the true expressions of life here at N.C.C.U. We may not have done it, but we at least tried and it is always better to have tried and failed than to never have tried at all.

I only have one thought that I would like to leave to you, and that is: No matter where you are or how far you roam don't just pass through this life with nothing having been accomplished, but make a dent, leave some type of a mark on the world to let it be known that you were here. I was here, I made my mark through you, the '76' Yearbook. Now what about you?

My heartful thanks go to Dr. James Blue and Mrs. Marion Covington for cooperating with me. Mr. Donald P. Addison, for pushing me. My husband, Joe Brown for loving me. My closest friends for putting up with me. Max Ward, Delmar, for training me. My staff, for working with me. You, the students for needing me. Without all of you, I would have failed.

In the Spirit of a Eagle
